

This is a third-year students' laboratory, it represents the practical side of the theoretical study of Database systems. which is given during first semester.

LABORATORY OBJECTIVES.

1. Provide a strong foundation in database concepts, technology and practice to the students to groom them into well-informed database developers.
2. Building and designing databases using Microsoft SQL Server.
3. Present the concepts and techniques relating to query processing by SQL engines.